Statement 3 – Part III Primary Exempt Purpose & Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Pennsylvania Partnerships for Children is a strong, effective, and trusted voice for improving the health, education, and well being of the Commonwealth's children. PPC's core values are to be an independent, nonpartisan, prevention-focused, research based child advocacy organization. Its prevention-based agenda concentrates on five issues that yield a strong return on investments for our children: early childhood education, family supports, health coverage, after-school programs and youth development, and quality basic education.

PPC's strategies to accomplish its goal are:

- Conducting research and analysis to develop credible, sound information and insight to drive public policy.
- Using an array of communication strategies to increase the awareness of key constituencies.
- Mobilize individuals and organizations to speak out for the interests of Pennsylvania's children.
- Representing the interests of Pennsylvania's children in Harrisburg and Washington through government relations.

Program Service Accomplishments

- Increased funding for child care subsidy. The funding increase secured last year allowed the state to expand service to more children and serve 110,000 children each day.

- Expanded the Keystone Stars program designed to improve child care quality and allow parents to easily identify the quality of care they chose by reviewing the 1-4 star rankings of programs.

- Improved enrollment and renewal coverage procedures in the children health insurance program providing assistance to the 135,500 children currently served children and the estimated 16,500 new enrollees.

- Enacted the State's first funding for pre-kindergarten programs serving nearly 1,500 more children in Head Start and nearly 3,000 additional children in school district based pre-k programs.

- Enacted the Education Accountability Block grants providing funds to every PA school district to improve student achievement using research based practice. The most significant outcome is that now over 51,000 of PA's kindergarteners attend school in a full-day rather than half-day program.

- Provided public education materials to interested Pennsylvanians, the media and policymakers on key aspects of child well-being through:
    - Approximately 2000 copies of a PPC produced comprehensive fact book on the status of Pennsylvania's children – including state, county, municipality and school district were distributed. PPC's website also included highlights from the report.
    - Quarterly organizational newsletter mailed to 10,000 people and posted online, introducing readers to the people and programs exemplifying the best in child prevention-focused policies and practices.
    - Monthly update on progress in children's policymaking, distributed to more than 1,400 people and posted online, augmented by regularly e-mailed policy updates at critical times in the policymaking process.

- Gave public presentations on key children's issues, including appearances in such high-level venues as legislative hearings and statewide conventions.
- Updated a guide directing users to credible online sources of data reflecting child well being; distributed to media, elected officials, and policy staff, and posted online.
- Conducted 6 state budget briefings in communities around Pennsylvania for over 250 advocates that analyzed the impact of the state 04-05 budget proposal on children.

Pennsylvania Partnerships for Children

IRS Form 990 – Schedule A

Year ended December 31, 2004 Statement 9

Although Pennsylvania Partnerships for Children's public support percentage was 30.43% percent for the year ended December 31, 2004, and it is slightly short of the 33 1/3 percent threshold, we feel that PPC qualifies under the "facts and circumstances" test and included data to support that determination.

At 30.43%, PPC is above the 10% public support figure.

PPC's operates an annual fundraising campaign lead by full participation of the 18 member board of directors soliciting over 1,000 individual and corporate potential donors. The ongoing fundraising effort by both staff and board continues as the prospect list is expanded through out the year to identify and contact new contributors.

PPC operations continue to follow the tax exempt purposes outlined in the original application as a public charity and remains focused on research and education to improve the condition of Pennsylvania's children.
